Assemble a Team

Developing a successful online program within a school district is a highly personalized experience. Sayre Online Solutions will develop a plan in coordination with you, tailored and executed to meet the specific needs of your school and your students. To best prepare your district for success, you'll want to assemble a team of individuals within your school district who believe in the direction you're headed and are willing to put in the time and energy it takes to get there. Use the chart below to help you build your team.
